Kitchen design with no limits.

The perfect symbiosis of cooktop, ventilation and inspiration.

The inductionAir System combines two great appliances: a flexInduction Cooktop and the revolutionary new integrated ventilation. Thanks to this space-saving concept, you can enjoy more freedom and create a kitchen based on your personal vision. And when this vision has become reality, the exciting part only begins. Your daily cooking experience will also be more convenient and enjoyable.

Designed to impress

The design of the inductionAir System reflects a deep understanding of the modern kitchen concepts: Cooktop and ventilation merge into one appliance that is both refined and eye-catching. Above all, the ventilation keeps in line with the design of the cooktop and its user interface: complex in its idea, yet simple in the execution.

Pays attention to your pans: fryingSensor Plus

Sensors in the cooktop measure the pan's temperature. Once a desired heat level has been reached, you receive a signal and the pan stays at that very level. Without worries and scorching, you always get the best results.

Installed to save space

The inductionAir System is easy to install and doesn't require much room inside the lower cabinet of your worktop to allow you to install standard drawers. This way, you will keep necessary storage space for your cookware and other kitchen utensils. Whatever you plan to do with your kitchen: the inductionAir System will make it possible.

Powerful and quiet: iQdrive motor

The iQdrive motor is always up to the task of removing unpleasant kitchen odours. Thanks to its brushless mechanism, the motor is outstandingly long-lasting, efficient and quiet.

Dishwashers

Upgrade your lifestyle with Siemens Dishwashers.

With state-of-the-art technology, the new Siemens built-in dishwashers make washing and drying faster and more flexible than ever. The premium range of dishwashers boast of the patented Zeolith® drying technology which optimises water usage to make your kitchen experience more convenient for your urban lifestyle. With their neat and clean built-in design, they blend in perfectly with the rest of your Siemens built-in kitchen.

Zeolith®: A leap in super-efficient drying technology.

Faster drying and lower energy consumption naturally

The dishwasher features a special container of Zeolith®, a mineral with the ability to absorb moisture and convert it into heat. It facilitates a faster drying process, which reduces time taken and energy consumed. This brings the energy consumption down to 0.73 kWh - the world's best energy consumption. Hence the Siemens dishwasher has been awarded the 'Innovative Prize for Climate and Environment' by the German government.

Lifelong drying

The Zeolith® minerals are stored in the depths of the dishwasher and thanks to the regeneration process, it keeps on working for the entire lifetime of the dishwasher.

There's more to a Siemens dishwasher than just a dishwasher.

Fully integrated

Subtly brilliant, the Fully Integrated Dishwashers from Siemens come with pure, clean design. And guess what, they are practically invisible. Basking in its own understated glory and underscoring your kitchen's design. The front panel matches the kitchen cabinets, disguising the entire front of the appliance. The control and display elements are located on the top edge of the door, catching your eye only when you open the dishwasher. Innovative technology couldn't be any more discreet.

Semi-integrated

You choose the material. You choose the colour. It's your dishwasher, your way. The Semi-integrated dishwashers from Siemens blend perfectly into your kitchen. The high-quality control panel of the dishwasher remains clearly visible. It comes with superior Siemens design and convenient access to the numerous functions and programmes.

Free-standing

Simplicity at its best! Easy to set up and install so that you can enjoy all the convenience. Loaded with an array of innovative functions and programmes. Free-standing dishwashers are attractively designed with a worktop, base, and side walls in the same colour as the front. It looks great no matter where you put it and don't have to hide it in a recess. The popular choices of placing a dishwasher are near the sink for easy accessibility or in the utility area of the kitchen.
